

“Communication Tips and an Intergenerational Story”

The colors are a changin’... and time is marching on... Amidst a troubled world, can you find glimpses of HOPE?

Just a few thoughts/resources this month...

First an article on how one family business handles generational differences in the workplace. There’s a link to listen to a 2-minute recording here: <https://www.wsj.com/lifestyle/workplace/how-to-handle-generational-differences-at-work-one-family-offers-a-blueprint-ed6151>

And then, I highly recommend watching a 4-minute video by Mel Robbins on how to handle difficult conversations: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=GeZU5JgomiE>

Can’t believe that Holiday Season, 2023, is barely a month away.

Hoping you are well!
